

Beth El Foundation Case Statement

For nearly 100 years, Beth El has offered a warm and welcoming home where thousands of Jewish people learn, pray, and connect. A place to give and receive support. To celebrate life and mourn loss. And to build a lasting community.

Behind every life that has been touched by Beth El is a story. Some begin in the hallways of the Aleph Preschool where a grandchild first learned the mitzvah of lighting the Shabbat candles. Others were formed in the Rabbi's office where counsel and comfort was sought in the wake of the death of a loved one. Many wonderful memories are traced to the bimah in the sanctuary where sacred wedding vows were exchanged, Torah was chanted for the first time, or a new life was blessed.

What's your Beth El story? We would love to hear what makes you passionate about Beth El and help you discover ways to help you preserve those experiences for future generations.

L'dor v'dor (from generation to generation).
