

IMPACT STATEMENT

Since 1893, NCJW Minnesota has played an important role in building programs and enacting laws that have changed lives in our schools, our neighborhoods and our community. We advocate for public policies that improve the quality of life for women, children and families. We promote equity through direct service initiatives that enrich our community. We build intergenerational networks of Jewish women and their allies who are empowered to lead for social change.

Jewish values form the foundation of NCJW's work: respect and dignity for all people, education and awareness, and the pursuit of justice. NCJW gives us the opportunity to turn our values into meaningful action. While the needs of our community change over time, our dedication to fighting for justice for women, children and families remains steadfast.

Your legacy gift ensures that NCJW will have a strong foundation upon which to build for the future, and will keep us at the forefront of creating social change. Your legacy will offer opportunities for future generations of volunteers, leaders and advocates to build meaningful relationships and provide responsive and innovative service to the community.

Please join us in making a gift to NCJW Minnesota in your will, trust, retirement account or life insurance policy. Your legacy is our future.
